

Miss Karie's Bio

Karie started dancing at the young age of three. She started taking classes at Dance Works and continued to compete with DW until she was 12. She has studied with many prestigious choreographers and has worked in the dance industry for over 15 years. She graduated from the Orange County School of the Arts from the Commercial Dance Conservatory and has since taken classes all over the Los Angeles and Orange County area. To continue growing as an educator, Karie focused on child and adolescent development in college and recently received both her multiple subjects teaching credential and master's degree in education technology from Cal State Fullerton.
